PROJECTS

Mood-Me | Link to GitHub | Link to Deployed Project

- This project was created to respond to people's moods with providing music or a movie clip
- Using API's and JavaScript to respond to users input, the API calls in the request, and outputs it into the HTML using JavaScript
- While working on this project, was tasked with the HTML and CSS aspects. Researched material on different clinical studies of emotions, and the response they have with music/movies.

Work Day Scheduler | Link to Github | Link to Deployed Project

- Work Day Scheduler is an application used to store activities by the hour on a planner. It has a color coordination with the actual time. So you know what hour it is
- Using moment.js for a timer to incorporate code into the JavaScript. Created an actual timer that shows the exact time using moments.js

Password Generator | Link to Github | Link to Deployed Project

- This work was used to create a random password using multiple different characters.
- In this application, Javascript was used to incorporate a new password every single time used. It also cycles through letters, numbers and special characters in a random sequence.
